Explanatory Notes

The person conducting a business or undertaking (PCBU) at the workplace must notify WorkSafe Tasmania on abandonment of an underground, partially underground or fully mounded tank which was used to store flammable gases or flammable liquids.

The tank is taken to be abandoned if:

- the tank has not been used to store flammable gases or flammable liquids for 2 years, or
- the tank is not intended to store flammable gases or flammable liquids again

The term “tank” means a container, other than an IBC designed to use, handle or store hazardous chemicals in bulk, and includes fittings, closures and other equipment attached to the container.

Notification must be made as soon as practicable after the tank is abandoned.

Personal Information

The personal information you provide in this notification will be used by WorkSafe Tasmania for that purpose and may be used for other purposes permitted by the Work Health and Safety Act 2012 and associated laws. Your personal information may be disclosed to contractors or agents or WorkSafe Tasmania, law enforcement agencies, courts and other public sector bodies or organisations authorised to collect it. This information will be managed in accordance with the Personal Information Protection Act 2004 and may be accessed by you on request to this Department. You may be charged a fee for this service.
